Acknowledgements

The Committee would like to thank the following, without whose help the Regatta would be unable to run:

London Borough of Richmond for the use of the tow path and enclosures
Metropolitan Police, Thames and Richmond Divisions
The Port of London Authority
All those volunteers who contribute their time for background duties

The Committee wishes to record with sadness the death of George Walls at the age of 96. George was a member of Twickenham Rowing Club and a past President of Sons of the Thames boat club. He devoted huge amounts of his time in teaching rowing and in supporting rowing events. His enthusiasm and help will be greatly missed.

REGATTA HISTORY

Twickenham Regatta dates from 1923, when it was founded by Twickenham Rowing Club, and known as ‘Richmond and Twickenham Regatta’. In 1926, it was handed over to an autonomous committee made up of members of the rowing club and representatives of local bodies interested in upping its profile and widening its appeal.

With the exception of the war years, the regatta continued uninterrupted until 1953, in which year some of the towns along the Thames decided to mark the Queen’s Coronation by sponsoring river-based celebrations. A split between what were then the individual boroughs of Richmond and Twickenham was brought about by the desire of each to organise its own event. There was no acrimony, but the one regatta became two from then on; ‘Richmond and Twickenham Amateur Regatta’, retaining the original title along with all the challenge cups and trophies donated to it over the preceding 30 years, and ‘Richmond Amateur Regatta’.

However, it soon became apparent that it was untenable to have two rowing events with confusingly similar names, held on the same part of the river within a month of each other. So in 1955, after 32 years of existence, ‘Richmond’ was dropped from the original and it was rebranded ‘Twickenham Amateur Regatta’, shortened further in 1998 to its present title.

Over the years, the course has been shifted up and down this reach, and the regatta enclosure has been moved from one side of the river to the other. Indeed, with the merger of the two boroughs, it no longer matters in terms of local politics that Twickenham Regatta is focused on the Richmond bank. The long term benefit to rowers and community is not one, but two opportunities to enjoy competitive racing in early summer on this lovely, unspoilt stretch of the Thames, with its famous backdrop of Richmond Hill.

This year is the 75th event held since 1923.
